HANDWRITING IS OF VITAL IMPORTANCE FOR OUR CREATIVITY AND VISUAL IMAGINATION

It comes to us through the ages and is an infinitely important bearer of our culture. Monica Dengo has been studying and developing new approaches to handwriting for the last fifteen years. While teaching to art and graphic design students, she became aware of their need for personal expression and the lack of a handwriting culture in Western society. This course is the result of many years of teaching Western calligraphy and handwriting to students from many parts of the world, including Italy, Belgium, France, Holland, Norway, Japan, the United States, India, China, Bulgaria, Lituania, Iran, Lebanon and many others.

The course offers the study of both historical and contemporary Italic handwriting. There are exercises to guide the students to the understanding of writing's visual rules, as well as a development of writing as a practice for our personal expression, visual imagination and creativity. Historical models will be the foundation of our studies.

The course's structure allows participants to work at their own pace. There are no specific due dates; however students must complete the course within 6 month of the subscription date. The course consists of three sequential lessons. Each lesson will require at least 20-25 hours of work. Completed lessons are to be sent to Monica Dengo, the course tutor, who will make comments on the work within a week and return it by mail. Individual conversations between the student and the teacher will be encouraged, but are not mandatory.

CERTIFICATION

Participants will receive, along with the last mailing, a certificate with a statement of completion.

COSTS

The cost for the 3 lessons course is $ 250.00. The fee covers the mailing of the assignments and the return mailing costs of the completed lessons. Each participant is responsible for the mailing costs originating at their address. For subscription and payment go to the "Application Form" in the web site.
